

PATHE GAZETTE: 42/77. (DUBLIN)

LOVE MATCH WEDDING

The arrival of bridesmaids at the Holy Trinity Church, Rathmind, is part of the setting for the happiest match of her career - a love match. Today sees the romantic final, in other words if you haven't already guessed, a tennis champion is to be wedded. Miss Bunny Heron, holder of the Irish Ladies Table Tennis Championship arrives with her father. Bride and bridegroom start another chapter of their happy story as Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper. The bride by the way uses the unorthodox pen-holder grip when playing and she has been described as the best exponent of this grip in the world outside Czechoslovakia where it originated. Today she gives up the single for the double. Proud mothers watch the scene, while proud fathers watch proud mothers. The love match proceeds without a fault. The bride also holds the Irish Coast and Church of All Ireland prizes as well as the Ladies Singles and Mixed Doubles East of Ireland Cup. You may be sure they'll keep a good table.