U. BOAT PACK RETURNS TO PORT.

Captured Nazi War Films provide us with an unique opportunity to see German Submarines of an under-sea wolf-pack returning from prowling the Atlantic sea lanes.

That pennant beats a ten-thousand ton American Tasker sunk.

The vintage of these pictures is open to doubt. The Harbour may be Lorient or Wilhelmshaven. Both places have numerous U.Boats pens as any Allied bomber man will tell you. Here you see some of them; reinforced concrete shelters with walls six to eight feet thick. Study them well because quite a few may be there no longer.

The inside of one of Admiral Doenitz's love nests. To him the U.Boats are Germany's one hope of victory. Our answer to that one is marked "Priority".
