137080_c

TITLE :- TRIANGULAR ATTILETIC CONTEST.

Picture: This is the English team - fine looking chaps 80 7 } they are too; Scotland is represented by these "braw 580 7 } Scottish laddies, ye ken"; while each man here is a "broth of bhoy from Ireland"

The start of the Half Mile which was won easily for England by T. Hampson.

Futting the shot was also won by an Englishman, R. Howland. Well thrown, Sir !

Here's the 100 yards flat race - filmed in one shot from start to finish - and yet another victory for England.

TITLE .: -ANCIEST & MODERN.

Picture: By the most modern means of transport Big Chie?
"White Horse Hagle" arrives in Holland. This venerable old gentleman is no less than 108 years old ! Just imagine that !

His white wife accompanies him on his mission - Here she is I

It is not often that one can look upon a picture of a man 108 years old and a boy just a century younger ! You will have noticed that we entitled this picture Ancient and Modern.

TITLE .: - POST HILL CLIMB.

Picture.:-Competitors in races over this course are compelled to charge up the Hill at terrific speed or they would never reach the top.

These fellows are going "all out" to flatten that hill - and they are succeeding. Of course its the last few yards that tell in a climb like this.

This striking "shot" shows competitors on the second time round the circuit.

This fellow found trouble and- was put out of action - leaving the field free to the other man.

Here comes Nichols of Leeds winning the event in easy style.

His time was not a record - but it was good nevertheless.