TITLE.:-GLORIOUS GOODWOOD.

Picture.:- The third day of the meeting presented a remarkable contrast to the drenchingly wet first days.

Only five horses went to the post for the "Goodwood Cup".

They're off ! There they go -- "Mail Fist" jumping straight into the lead -- its a matter of staying power in a two miles five furlongs race.

Here they come -- Mail Fist making the running for its stable companion Brown Jack.

Its a tough struggle but Mail Fist is keeping the lead out into the country.

On the return Mail Fist still has it - but appears to weaken --

Brown Jack is coming up -- and shortly after entering the straight, Mail Fist drops back and Brown Jack goes on to win from Jugo by a length.

A gruelling but good race.

Here to the right, you can just see the winner being led in by its owner.

TITLE.:- YOUR NAVY.

Picture.: A fine model of the 18th Century H.M.S. Kent salutes you - and from the deck of a destroyer a torpedo is fired for our especial benefit.

Then we are shown the "X1" the world's largest submarine -- here are two of the terrible looking guns she carries.

Then a sailor takes a ride in the breeches buoy from ship to shore.

A diver goes down to the depths - just to show there's nothing in it, and happy Jack Tars dance a hornpipe for us on board H.M.S. York.

And finally, the Silent Service proves that it can be really noisy when it likes.

COMMENTATOR.:- Well ! Cheerio everybody ! We'll be with you again in a few days.
