

(5) TITLE.:-WORLD'S OLDEST MAN

Picture.:- One hundred and fifty six years old ! -- that means that he was born in the reign of George the Third -- before the American Revolution.

This very old man survives no less than eleven wives, but in spite of that he says "I like most in life, the ladies"

(6) TITLE.:-SAMSON JUNIOR.

Picture.:- It is hardly believable, but three short years ago Lewis was considered to be too weak and puny to attend school ! Look at him now -- with a couple of hundredweights of humanity slung across his shoulders!

You'll agree that this is certainly a remarkable feat for one so young.

Lewis's old father is very proud of his son, and here urges the boy to show us the wonderful muscles he has developed.

Did you ever see anything like that ? I never did !

This school-boy finds no difficulty at all in supporting a family -- He would be a useful chap in a scrap providing you were on his side.

You can't wonder that the youngsters of Stratford admire this juvenile Hercules.

(7) TITLE.:-ALL IN THEIR DAYS WORK.

Picture.:- Just raise your eyes and take a look up the Chrysler Building, and you will see some small objects high up on the right.

Take a closer look -- and you're likely to shudder at the dizzy work of these window cleaners.

We might look down on them -- but we must admire their nerve. It beats me how, with all the work there is to be done on terra firma, men can be found to take on a job like this.

This chap is fifty six floors up !

Talking of windows, these are four million and twenty three windows in New York -- if you don't believe that, count them -- you could start with the Chrysler Building.

If the dinner hooter went now these fellows would just about reach the ground in time for tea.
