TITLE. AMY IN HULL.

Picture.:- Johnnie arrives at Hull in her trusty little craft "Jason" which carried her on her wonderful lone flight to Australia.

The splendid little machine is none the worse for the trying times experienced on the flight.

As it comes to a standstill Amy is greeted by the Lord Mayor of her home town who congratulates her on her splendid achievement.

From the rostrum the air-girl acknowledges the cheers of the crowd.

And then follows one of the most remarkable scenes ever witnessed in a provincial city.

Hundreds of thousands of people turned out to see their heroine and her progress to the City-Hall can only be described as magnificent! To have achieved fame such as this in three months is little short of miraculous.

Seldom has so dense a crowd assembled in the streets of Hull. One can't help wondering if many of them saw anything at all, except the sky above. Just imagine a five foot man in the middle of that crowd -- he would have to use his imagination.

COMMENTATOR.: Well! that's all for the present. We'll be with you again in a few days.
