TITLE.:- FOLLOWERS OF FORM.

Picture. :- A big crowd awaits the race which upsets all calculations.

The favourite, Gallant Fox goes to the post at two to one on.

From the "Off !" whichone and Gallant Fox set the pace, while the despised Jim Dandy (Number Three) gamely keeps close to the rails not far behind the two favourites. As they take the lead it looks as though the hundred-to-one outsider is justifying far shorter odds -- to the amazement of the crowd.

As they approach the home-straight Jim Dandy sails past the favourites to the utter astonishment of every one -- upsetting all predictions of the wise men of the turf. He keeps the lead -- he extends it -- and with a magnificent final burst has it all his own way to the post ! A crushing victory for a rank outsider.

There was no rush for the bookmakers in this instance.

Here comes Jim Dandy with Frank Baker "up", still wondering what happened to the others.

His win brought five thousand pounds to the owner.

TITLE.:- BRITISH LEGION RALLY.

Picture.:- Some five thousand men took part in this great rally at Newmarket. They move off in column of fours from the parade ground and march by way of the High Street to the Rowley Mile Racecourse for Divine Service. Even after all these years they've not lost their military smartness -- their old sergeant major couldn't have complained about this parade -- or, at least, no more than he usually did.

It was raining like the very dickens when they reached the saluting base, where, the Right Honourable the Earl of Leicester takes the salute--

--but 'carry on' is the order, so, of course they just carry on.
