(6). TITLE.:- WINGLESS PLANE.

Picture.:- I wouldn't like to say this peculiar looking aircraft won't fly -- nor would I like to say that it will. More startling things than that have happened, even in our time. It has no wings -- in their stead are great revolving spools; which it is expected, will give the machine great lift and speed. Well, lets hope that it gets its rise alright.

(7). TITLE.:- FAIR IN A STREET.

Picture.:- Oxford's chief thoroughfare -- St Giles -- is a mass of roundabouts and side shows at this time.

Just fancy having this lot planted immediately outside your house !

(FAIR EFFECTS FOR 8 SECONDS)

As early as seven o'clock in the morning some of the shows and rides opened for business and what's more they actually took money before breakfast time !

The noise these fairs make is said to be indescribable -- I'm inclined to agree.
