(1). TITLE.:- SWORD PLAY AS AN ART.

Picture.:- For over 2500 years Japanese have indulged in the sword dance, and to-day a professor of the art of sword play teaches young Japs in California.

At this age, our youngsters are just about interested in marbles and cigarette pictures, but this child learns warlike actions with a sword nearly as big as itself. It's called a sword dance -- I suppose it's the enemy who dance !

Now the professor himself shows us how to chop them up like chipped potatoes. It sends cold shivers right down one's back and half way up again to see the mighty sweeps of his swiper.
