

3-21251
3-41251

(6). TITLE.:- BOVINE QUEEN.

Picture.:- Taking a cow out to dinner -- an altogether new experience for this gentleman of Chicago !

Korndyke Heather is to share, with her owner, the honours at a banquet of the Association of Commerce. An unusual but distinctly distinguished guest !

She's got good table manners too. You could hear every note --

--the band played. Nor did she, in any way, interfere --

--with the speakers. An ideal guest of honour, you may be sure.

What a tale of her experiences she'll have to tell her husband when she gets home. Will he believe her ? I wonder !

(7) TITLE.:- MAJESTY OF THE LAW.

Picture.:- This procession is quite different from any other that London is privileged to see.

The Lord Chancellor (Lord Sankey) heads a line fully representative of the --

--Majesty of Law. Only once a year can the man --

--in-the-street get so close a view of the Lord Chief Justice, unless --

--he is unfortunate enough to have to take audience with him in a place most of us like to keep away from.

The Michaelmas Law Term opens with an official service in Westminster Abbey and practically all the judges attend. In their stately robes of scarlet and ermine and their full bottomed wigs they make a very brave show -- helped in this instance by welcome October sunshine. It's possible that a number of people kept away from the scene of this procession,

--for the sight of so many judges would be like a cold douche to --

--evil doers. Think of the sentences there are here !