

(5).

TITLE.:- PONGO GOES ALOFT.

Picture.:- Here they are ! All ready for the big air race.

Four nations are in it ! Italy's "hopped the wag" from his organ,--

--and the French representative refuses to be left out.

Pongo of U.S.A. takes Mrs. Pongo with him as ballast, perhaps,--

--while, obviously, these two are Jacko and Co.

Away they go on a race destined to make air history; for it's the first international balloon race of its kind ever staged.

Hi ! hi ! come down ! You've no right up there ! Well, of all the cheek ! Ah, well, monkeys always were cheeky !

So, far up into the 'blue' they go ! We mustn't tell you who won. It's a state secret, and might lead to international complications.

(6).

TITLE.:- HINDENBURG'S RHINELAND TOUR.

Picture.:- There's little doubt of the popularity of this grand old man of Germany.

He gets an enthusiastic welcome on his arrival at Aix-la-Chappelle on his tour of the --

--now-entirely-freed Rhineland. The popular --

--President is greatly gratified by his reception.

At Trier (or Treves, as it is better known to us) --

--the President is welcomed by the entire populace,

--who turn out to greet him despite the bad weather.

The school children have a holiday -- so their cheers are particularly hearty.

He's a splendid looking man is President von Hindenburg, with a record his fellow countrymen might well be proud of.