(4). TITLE:- SPRINTING SPINSTERS.

Picture :- It's called "St.Catt's" day, not because the girls scratch each other or wander "on the tiles" at night.

It's merely a familiar reference to St. Catherine, their patron saint.

Away they go ! All out for Montmartre - their objective.
Some --

--race like hares - but others are more like rabbits ! Don't think Parisiennes are always as fast as this ! Come on, Mademoiselle ! You're a long way behind. Stick to it ! You still stand a chance !

They have to do a lot of bike-dodging. Why don't they give her a clear road !

Near Montmartre, traffic conditions are even worse ! But they zig-zag on towards the goal.

Here comes the winner, Mademoiselle Yvette Rouzeyrol, beating all previous records for the race.

She gets a splendid ovation from a very big crowd. Amongst those to congratulate Yvette on her victory are --

--Mademoiselle Parisys, the famous French actress, and Miss Josephine Baker. The one a very charming blonde, and the other a brunette - of the "brunettest" ! That's a good word.!
