

PLATE 2

(5).

TITLE.:- YARMOUTH OF THE WEST.

X Picture.:- The fleet's in ! This time it's the fishing fleet, with many record catches of the succulent herring. As many as 1400 crans have been brought in in one day - that's over fifty thousand gallons of glistening fish. It has been called a -- --"silver harvest"; but it seems that golden harvest would be a more appropriate name for it.

Of course, these great catches have brought the price down, so you and I will be --

X --getting our breakfast bloaters cheaper than ever ! Large quantities of the fish are actually being sold, and shipped, to Holland and Germany. That naturally means more export trade for Britain. Well, we can do with it ! Let 'em all come ! The more the merrier !
