(7). TITLE. :- HUNTING IN A SNOWSTORM.

Picture. :- A big crowd had gathered in the hopes of seeing the Royal brothers at the Meet, --

--but a severe snowstorm brought them disappointment. You could hardly blame the Princes for deciding against such weather conditions as these. It makes --

--one shiver to even think about it. Nevertheless the Master, Colonel Oliver Birkbeck, --

--decided to carry on - and carry on they did. They make a pretty picture as they move off; but it was Mister fox's lucky day, for the weather got worse - and the hunt was called off.
