(2). TITLE:- MINIATURE MARINES.

Picture:- They are going to be real sailors later on, and, ~~the~~ knows(?) probably some of them will be admirals, all smothered in gold lace, and mighty proud of -- --themselves. They look a bit young to be made acquainted with real guns -- yet, they are just as anxious to know all about them as if they were double their present age. They even--

--have actual practice with the artillery, including loading and firing. By the time --

--they reach manhood, there won't be much they -- --don't know about their particular job in life! Push--

--lad ! He's only a nipper, but sticks it like a -- --man. In it goes ! Good lad ! Perseverance wins ! They are part of Italy's --

--navy of the future, with miniature officers carrying out their duties, with all the self assurance in the world. There's a breezy life ahead !
