

(6). TITLE.:- WINTER GARB.

Picture.:- They're back from a trip to the banks of Newfoundland, with a record catch -- --of cod and mackerel. They are lucky to be -- --back at all, for they experienced the worst storm ever met with, --

--off the Icelandic coast. And the cold ! Was it cold ? Well, take a look at -- --this ! Br-rrh ! It's below zero now, but that's tropical to what they've been through. The -- --weight of ice she gathered aboard, nearly capsized her, more than -- --once, on her adventurous voyage. Often she was almost-- unmanageable. Under all this ice she's just an ordinary fishing trawler.

She's safe in port, but so long as people want fish, back she'll go for more - and, hang the weather ! Fishermen don't care. They're great chaps !
