

C-52271

(9). TITLE. :- SHOWING THE FLAG.

Picture. :- "Nelson" leads the way. She is going to America where the Commander-in-Chief, Admiral Sir Michael Hodges, will pay a visit to Admiral Chase, Commander-in-Chief of the United States Fleet. It's a good idea to cement Anglo-American friendship, --

--in this way. There she goes ! Seven-and-a-half million-pounds-worth of her.

Quite insignificant by comparison looks the torpedo-boat-destroyer Montrose - a Flotilla Leader. And-- --now comes Repulse. She's going to Gibraltar to join with the West Indian Squadron, preparatory to the usual Spring cruise and manoeuvres, which will take place in the -- --Atlantic, this year. The departure of the fleet always means that some heavy hearts are left behind. For Jack Tar's a jolly chap. His wife and kiddies are already looking forward to his return.