TITLE.:- TRAMWAY SUBWAY.

Picture. :- North and South London are now linked by double-decked tramcars - the only ones to run through London proper.

The Chairman of the L.C.C., Major Tasker, is at the wheel of the first car to run through the reconstructed tunnel--

--under Kingsway.... There it goes, with a distinguished company aboard.... We'll go with them !

This underground "tram trip" will, undoubtedly, be a novelty for the youth of London, while their elders, on business bent, will welcome the "short cut" --

--it provides..... Here we are, well under the -- --roadways with their teeming traffic.... We're now running through Aldwych tram station..... And so on to --

--Theobald's Road, where we see daylight once more, at the end of the subway.... It's a stiff incline, but -- --the car takes it at good speed..... Maybe this will prove to be a forerunner of other underground roads..... Londoners won't mind being rabbits to escape some of the street perils of to-day.
