

132215

(10).

TITLE.:- OUR NAVY- OF TO-MORROW.

Picture.:- Everything is done "at the double", ... The boys "fall in" for the C.O's inspection like seasoned sailormen. ... These lads are our navy of to-morrow - They'll soon be full-blown Jolly Jacks; --

--at the moment they're what we might call Jolly"Jack-ets" but every one --

--is a good fit ! ... After inspection by the --

--C.O. Captain Austin, the boys are paraded to see one of their number receive the first prize for best Admiral's Essay. ...

He is Second Class Boy Dralsey, and gets a wallet and money prize for his effort. ... This pleasant duty discharged, the -- --Commanding Officer takes the salute at a march past of the entire --

--<sup>at hand</sup> personel of the establishment. ... He should be --

--<sup>2024</sup> proud of the boys, for they reflect great credit on all those -- --who are responsible for them. ... Our navy of the future !

Well, well ! We may all rest assured that they'll give a jolly good account of themselves if ever they're called upon to do so !