TITLE.:- INDIA'S DERBY.

Picture.:- They're going to the post. Somewhat more leisurely than they would in England, for it's very hot .

The Viceroy, Lord Irwin, (on the right) chats with Sir Victor Sassoon between the races, and -- --They're off ! They string out quite a bit, with the favourite lying fourth. "He's being held/the last mile" -- for

--say the spectators - and they're perfectly right. For as the -- --horses enter the straight it is seen that "Star of Italy" is coming up beautifully. It's a --

K

--close business - Come on Star of Italy! - Hold it ! - Good ! - Won by half a length ! That's as good as a mile ! It's a win !

Sir Victor Sassoon (who races in India under the name of Mr. Eve) proudly leads in his victorious horse, and --

--just as proudly receives the Viceroy's Cup from Lady Irwin. Good luck, Sir !

And well done, Star of Italy ! Extra oats for you !
