

135283-C

(4). TITLE.:- ALL RUBBER GLIDER.

Picture.:- Every bit of it is rubber ! Wings, fusilage, tail, and all ! ... The inventor believes -- --that every glider should be its own bumper ! ... The -- --tail reminds one of an elephant's trunk, in action.

She's away on a not-too-good "take-off". ... She doesn't seem too sure of herself, --

X

--but comes to earth right side up, so "All's Well !"

And now again, with the pilot intending to show us something ! ... A wobbling "take-off" - a crazy turn - back again - and then - WALLOP ! - Ha ! "Twist and Bust" - No harm done, the pilot's bones are rubber too !