TITLE.:- WHITE BATTLESHIP.

Picture. :- She's a 28,000-tonner, and was built for the Chilean Government, at Elswick, Northumberland, and launched in 1913. ... Then the War came --

--and she was taken over by Britain, being named "Canada" "for the duration". ... Like all British ships she gained glory during those horrible years, but nothing could stay the hand of time. ... After the War she had to --

--be modernized - and now the job is done ! ... She is manned --

--by a thousand officers and men who are here to take their splendid ship home to Chili, at last. ... Final painting is -- --a big job. Think of the enormous amount of work necessary to paint the control tower alone - a great 140 foot skyscraper. ... Her finishing coat is to be white, and believe it or not - her guns are to be a deep crimson.

Battleships cost a lot of good money - Why shouldn't they look good ?
