(8). TITLE:- LATE AGAIN.

Picture:- There's no excuse for unpunctuality in Edinburgh, unless you're deaf ! And here's why !

At five minutes to one o'clock this ball is raised on the Nelson Monument, --

--while at the Castle the "one o'clock gun" is prepared for its --

--noisy reminder to the populace that it's time has come. ... After --

--loading, the gun is connected to the clock by lanyard. ... The -- --final seconds tick by, and on the stroke of the hour --

--the clock automatically FIRES the gun, and, simultaneously the -- --ball drops. ... A number --

--of public clocks are synchronized with the gun clock, so that you --

--can't "get away with" any old excuse for unpunctuality in Edinburgh.
