TITLE.:- OUR FIGHTING NAVY.

Picture. :- It's called the "silent" service - but one of the first things the boys learn is how to make a noise - --

--and a real noise, by means of big guns ! ... Of course they -- --don't really fire these mighty pieces of ordnance. ... If they did, they'd probably shake to bits the building in which they're -- --installed! ... They are merely taught how to make the -- --big guns "speak", so that they will be able to "carry on" if anyone starts trouble. ...

It's a jolly good job they're on our side !

They get actual firing practice with the field guns, which they handle with a smartness typical of the navy. ... There's much more of -- --a thrill in firing than there is in only pretending to !

You can be sure these boys will never shoot any way but dead straight !
