

(3). TITLE:- INTERNATIONAL ARMY.

("MARSEILLAISE" OVER TITLE AND AS BACKGROUND DOWN TO WHERE INDICATED).

Picture:- Monsieur Maginot, the Minister of War, pays his respects to the colours of the various regiments assembled in the Court of Honour of the Hotel des Invalides. ... There are -- --present military representatives of the nineteen nations who had subjects in the volunteer army. ...

The Minister of War then presents to gallant little Captain Dagnaux the flag of the volunteers, saluting him in the customary French manner. ... The flag is a symbol of France's gratitude to all --

--those other nationals who helped in the cause of the Allies in -- --the Great War. ... Forty-five thousand, including many Britishers, elected to join this regiment and fight under the tricolour. ... An international army in the true sense of the word !

( BRING UP "MARSEILLAISE" AND VERY SLOWLY FADE AS TROOPS MARCH AWAY )
