

(7). TITLE:- MARCHING MANOEUVRES.

Picture:- Each boy represents a ship of the Fleet. ...
We have to imagine big manoeuvres --

--in progress. ... Raising of pennants indicate "orders received", lowering "orders obeyed" - and smartly, (as one always expects from the navy), the orders are carried out.

It's not difficult to imagine all these as ships manoeuvring as one, in obedience to orders received. ... Another order ! and they turn again ! (A regular Dick Whittington affair, this !) - and again ! ... Looks as though they're making for port this time ! The order's received ! - Cheerio, lads !
