

2-17-51

(6).

TITLE.:- CHAPLIN.

Picture.:- For hours they waited in the snow in the hopes of catching --

X

--a glimpse of Charlie "in the flesh". ... He's a great a favourite- -

--in Germany as he is in Britain. ... When the --

--great little man arrives, their enthusiasm knows no bounds... Great arc lamps light up one of the most amazing scenes ever witnessed in the German capital. ... Excited people lift the visitor --

X

--off his feet as he acknowledges their welcome. ... Don't drop him ! He's valuable !

... They manage to get Charlie away whole from the station entrance, but it's a tough job getting him to the waiting car. ... Such is the penalty of fame. ...

The night is one of the coldest of the season, but --

--Charlie's welcome is so warm it might almost be called hot - deuced hot, in fact. ... Make way, there ! ... Give the man a chance ! ... For once in a way, the police fail to get prompt obedience to their commands. ...

X

It's a great German reception - but the crowd is "Rush'n" !!