

2-55551

(B).

TITLE:- RECORD GLIDE.

Picture:- This gliding business is all the rage. ... Hirth is out for a record. ...

He is catapulted into the air in the usual manner, with a rubber rope ! ... That's a good start. ... Even this bit is as much as many so-called gliders can get out of their planes.

What makes most of them sore is that they can't soar - for long. ... You know, this is a very remarkable effort, considering that he has no engine to help him. ...

It might become quite a popular pastime, but for the launching difficulty. ... You can't just slip it into a bit of garter elastic, and let go !

He's had three-hours-seven-minutes up in the air - No engine, no "prop", no petrol - unless he carried a lighter.

Of course, the spectators kept well out of the way until he came safely to rest on Mother Earth. ... You can't quite -- tell what a glider might do, while its in the air. ....

They have been known to fall - but here's one that didn't!