

(2). TITLE:- SHOCKING SOCCER.

Picture:- The teams take the field. They're prepared for anything, hail, rain, snow or sun - or even eggs of doubtful origin, for that matter !

At all good football matches there's a "tossup", but this one can be more aptly described as a "mix-up". Anyway, why should anybody agree to anything on such an occasion ? I don't know !

And now, the "kick off" ! Oh, no ! A "perfect lady" objects ! Zonk !

They "play the game". Not quite under F.A. rules, but they - ah ! over the top !

The goal keeper would be nothing without the rolled umbrella.

A cup is such a common thing to fight for, so they strike a new note, and substitute --

--something that will look better on a hob, than on a sideboard!
