TITLE.:- SHIPS TO FACTORY DOOR.

Picture.:- From now on, ships will be able to load and discharge right at the factory door. .... The new enterprise --

--is fittingly inaugurated by the President of the Board of Trade, aboard the tender, Magnetic.

The dock took six years to build, at a cost of a million pounds, --

--and will provide quite a lot of work for --

--people of these parts. .... The Magnetic noses her way in, breaking the ribbon in her progress. ....

Mr. Graham congratulates some of the workmen responsible for the construction of -- --the great dock which now permits of ships unloading right on the doorstep of the factory.
