

(2). TITLE.:- FAST YOUNG THINGS.

Picture. :- They've taken possession of the famous Esplanade for their annual race for prizes given by the Municipal Council.

Crashing along at a thousand miles a year, they come hurtling down the track at speeds that would make a snail green with envy ! Sir Malcolm Campbell had better look to his laurels !

They take the corners at a reckless "bat", which seems to indicate that only --

--the winning of the race matters ! Perhaps it does - but I wonder if Mother agrees!

It's a popular win - a walk-over - and she's only six years old !

Now the scooterites have a "go". It's good healthy exercise for the youngsters - and a little lad of seven adopts the role of guide to the others.

Kind of him - for they might have lost their way otherwise !

Aren't they a serious little pair ? You'd never think they had just won a race !
