TITLE.:- REMEMBER ZEEBRUGGE.

Picture.:- Just a Mersey Ferry-boat, but what a glorious --

--part she played in the event which they are now commemorating aboard her, at Liverpool.

Wreaths are laid below the brass tablet which is a memorial to those who died --

--in the raid, and their hundreds of relatives and others who remember, come aboard --

--to add their tribute to those whose names appear below the memorial tablet. On the bridge during the raid, --

--Commander Gibbs was mortally wounded but continued to direct operations; an act in keeping with the -- --best traditions of the Service.The little "Royal Iris" carries as much glory as many mighty battleships.
