

(10). TITLE.:- LAUNCH OF THE RAMASA.

Picture.:- They take us back to ancient Rome. .... And here are the valiant warriors told off to man the galley.

The roll is called - just as to-day, but the answering of names sounds rather like "answering back !"

Now the inspection ! "What, no shave young man !" (That brings back memories !)

And the answer is "No razor, sir !" By the way, how did they shave in those days ?

Major General Evans names the galley "Ramasa", and wishes the best of luck to all who sail the arena in her.

Away she goes down the slip-ways, bound for the green and grassy seas of the Rushmoor Arena. .... What a time they'll have, bounding over the turf, with nothing worse than enraged worms and grasshoppers to contend with. .... The Ramasa is one of a fleet being built for the Aldershot Command Tattoo.

She finds a sail useful, too ! - like most of her sex !...

Who's for the Skylark ? -----

BRING UP "LIFE ON THE OCEAN WAVE"
WITH FINISH TO SYNCHRONIZE WITH END OF SHOT.