

135858

(9).

TITLE.:- PARIS WEMBLEY.

Picture.:- One of the most beautiful and inspiring spectacles seen in Paris for many years marks the opening of the French Wembley - the International Colonial Exhibition, --

--to give it its full title. White cloaked Spahis form the President's escort.

The great exhibition is very reminiscent of our own Wembley of not-so-long-ago !

Even to-day, when M. Doumergue is formally inaugurating the vast undertaking, it is by no means complete, for no less than six --

--more miles of pathways have to be laid, before it can truthfully be said that the job --

--is finished. After a drive round the extensive grounds the --

--President enters the permanent Colonial Museum and declares the Exhibition --

--open. It has been suggested that Wembley inspired France to embark upon this big task.

Well, "imitation is the sincerest form of flattery" - We are honoured, and wish France --

--even more success with their effort than we had with ours... How about a trip to Paris ?

They tell me there are lots of beautiful things to be seen there - but, take the wife.

AND SO, FOR THE PRESENT, WE LEAVE YOU.