(4). TITLE.:- MARTYR MAID.

Picture.:- Just 500-years ago, Joan of Arc, the Maid of Orleans, was burned at the stake as a heretic. To-day, her --

--memory is honoured by prominent citizens of the land of her birth. Cardinal Verdier --

--sees a big procession of the religious societies pass through the Place des Pyramides.

With the Cardinal is the President of the Municipal Council, --

--while the presence of many members of the government shows how the --

--country reveres the memory of the Martyr Maid, the inspired girl who changed the course --

--of a nation's history. Naturally, the military --

--take part in the celebrations - for was not Joan of Arc a Soldier of France ? Her's was a great deed - one which -- --will never be forgotten by France. Indeed, it is certain that Joan of Arc will live in the world's memory, for history has not provided us with a more heroic or romantic --

--figure.
