

13/8/51

(4).

TITLE.:- ON THE PROM.

Picture.:- It's rather like the weather that saves itself up for my holidays. But, as befits the Admiralty chief, water holds no horrors for Mr. Alexander.

He declares open the whole of the £30,000 scheme, which includes --

--the new prom, a bathing pool and boating lake.

The First Lord, accompanied by Mrs. Alexander, then cuts a ribbon, throwing open the new sea-front to the public.

Everyone got thoroughly soaked, but nobody seemed to care. They were glad to welcome Mr. Alexander to --

--the town he first visited on a choir boys outing from Bristol.