TITLE:- YACHTING.

Picture:- Three famous yachts, Shamrock, Candida, and Astra, "all set" and ready for the first big-yacht race of the season.

Keen interest is displayed in the "jockeying" for positions at the start -

They're away ! Astra, (nearest the camera), and Candida, (next), cross the line almost level, with Shamrock having the appearance, (to we land-lubbers), of being badly left. But Captain Heard knows his job, and his craft, so he puts her "into the eye of the wind", --

--with the result that she rapidly overhauls her rivals on the first "leg".

Those following the course of the race experience a big thrill --

--when it is seen that Shamrock is over half a mile ahead of Astra, with --

--Candida still "third of three". What a beautiful picture they make !

Shamrock the Fifth wins by over a mile - a popular victory if ever there was one ! -

--while Astra crosses the finishing line only a couple of seconds ahead of Candida. Sir Thomas Lipton wins a hundred pounds by this victory - more glory than cash !
