

KING AS

--services. the troops come to "the present", each Service separately.

BACKGROUND

The vast audience stands until His Majesty has inspected the -- combined guard of honour, drawn up in the big Olympia Arena...

TO

MILITARY

Everybody notes with loyal satisfaction that the King appears to be in the very best of health, after his recent--

--indisposition. As soon as Their Majesties have taken their seats, --

MUSIC

--the Royal Horse Artillery perform their famous Musical Drive, - a marvel of precise horsemanship. See how they swing round the arena - then up "the straight" - finally coming to pause immediately opposite the Royal Box.

AS

BACKGROUND

No wonder their display evokes applause from the Royal Visitors !

TO FINISH

Now the Army Physical Training staff do a turn for the benefit --

BRINGING

--of the big and highly appreciative audience. They follow with --

UP TO FULL

--an exhibition of "follow-my-leader-vaulting", carried out as perfectly as if it were being done "by numbers". Smart work that !....

BLAST

AS

We delve into history ! The Grenadiers have the distinction of wearing a badge at the back and front of their headgear.

COMMENTATOR

FINISHES

It was at Alexandria in 1801 --

--that they were attacked in the rear. The rear rank turned about, and back to back they beat off all assaults.

FINAL

CHORD

Hence the badges, front and rear.....

AND SO FOR THE PRESENT WE LEAVE YOU.
