(7). TITLE. :- PIT PONIES.

Picture. :- Their first trip to London, after spending most of their lives below ground --

--hauling coal for the benefit of we unthinking --

--mortals, who think of it only as something which costs "too-,much-a-ton" --

--and disappears all too quickly..... They arrive with the dawn, at a time when they are usually preparing to put in a good day's work, possibly half a mile below the surface. it's quite a healthy job really, --

--as witness this fine fellow who has spent twenty-one years in the pits, --

--and this one, who seems to be saying "O.K" to our enquiries as to his well being.
