TITLE.:- FOREIGN SECRETARY.

Picture.:- Mr. Henderson is in Paris to discuss the Hoover Plan, with French Ministers, but you can't blame him for paying a visit to the Colonial -- --Exhibition, of which his hosts are so justly proud. ...

The Temple of --

--Anghor is one of the outstanding features of the French "Wembley", so, of course, the Foreign Secretary has to pay it a visit. From a post of vantage --

--on the steps, the various attractions are pointed out to the visitor, who expressed --

R --admiration for everything he saw. He should have enjoyed his little respite from the worries of State affairs.
