

(2). TITLE.:- ROYAL WELSH SHOW.

Picture.:- It is the first time in history that a member of the Royal Family has visited Llanelly.

So naturally, the people of "Tinopolis" are overjoyed at this chance of greeting the Prince of Wales. His Royal Highness --

--watches with interest the parade of a magnificent array of the leading British breeds of cattle. The weather is very --

--unkind, but nobody cares, so long as the Prince is here.

The ponies are in fine form. Some of them are inclined to let their high spirits get the better of them - despite the presence of royalty.

The Prince spends a long day at the Show. Before he departs --

--he presents his Cup for the best Welsh cob, seen here on the left of the picture. But the Cup goes back to the table - till after the Show.

Now for a final group, Sir, if you please ! Come on Mr. Mayor - and you Mr. Davies. Thank you very much Gentlemen !
