

TITLE:- DUE FOR A RISE.

Picture. :- Passing Out ! This usually means the end of one's career, but in the case of the cadets it is just the reverse !

Air Vice-Marshal Sir C. Lamb is the -- --inspecting officer, and I should say, he must be thoroughly satisfied with the smart --

--appearance of the cadets as they march past the saluting base. Their precision is such that they --

--might all be worked by the pulling of one string ! These are the fellows who are going to see that Britain's Air Force never slips back into second place amongst the aerial navies of the world.

Prizes and trophies are presented in the gymnasium, each --

--recipient being wholeheartedly applauded by his college comrades. Sport is, of -- --course, encouraged; hence the Chimay Cup. Now he's got to find a sideboard to put it on !

The Sword of Honour goes to Under Officer C.W.Ling, as best all-round cadet in the senior term.

They can't all be Air Marshals, but they'll rise in the Service !
