

TITLE:- JERSEY "BATTLE OF FLOWERS"

Picture. :- When Jersey says "There's a good time coming!", everybody on the island gives a hand to make it so. Then, when the day of the famous "Battle of Flowers" dawns, thousands of holidaysakers get plenty of "whoopie" thrown in to their holiday, as well as a few tons of flowers ! The blossoms are pitched indiscriminately, although I've a shrewd suspicion that some of the young "blooms" are openly offering themselves as targets, when the throwers happen to be the kind of "blossoms" they'd like to take to the pictures later on. The Riviera can't show us anything better than this ! The fun is fast and furious, and if there's anyone in the vast crowd who is not having a good time -- there is something radically wrong with him -- and he'll be better off if he takes a stroll into the sea till his hat floats!
