

(4). TITLE.- FALL OF A FORTRESS.

Picture.- A fortress isn't much use after two-and-a-half centuries.

But whether it is or not, this one has to go, in --
--accordance with Germany's undertaking in the --
--twelve-year-old Treaty of Versailles.

It is to end its days in glory, so charges --
--of dynamite are inserted into the foundations. ....

The enemies of Frederick Wilhelm would have delighted in a chance like --

--this ! ..... Now then you fellows, out of the way !

A final warning blast, --

--down goes the plunger, --

--and the scene of many glories of ages past crumbles into dust. ....

More of it ! ..... A big "fall" in building materials !
What a chance for anyone --

--wanting to build a rock garden ! ..... So Germany keeps a promise - with a "bang".
