TITLE.:- BANTAM-WEIGHT BOXING.

Picture.:- Everybody loves a good "scrap", but only a few thousand of them manage to get to Belle Vue for the Bantam-weight battle. Johnny King, (in the dark pants), hasn't got it quite all his own way, although he keeps forcing Pat Gorman to the defensive. Pat replies spiritedly without making a lot of impression on the Manchester lad.

In the second round Johnny "hands out" some good ones, giving the Durham - Co ! - miner a few seconds to think things over ! As soon as Gorman is up, King dashes in once more to take immediate advantage of the other's weakness.

Gorman is plucky ! See how he replies to King's attack ! It takes a good man to stand up like this, after having been hammered to the floor half a dozen times !

The sixth round finds them both a bit tired, with Gorman badly shaken. But he's game ! Now, come on, King ! You look like a winner ! That's the - OW ! - missed him ! Watch King, on the right ! OUCH !

He's down ! ONE - TWO - THREE - FOUR - FIVE - and the towel is thrown in to the ring ! It's all over, bar shouting, with King as "King of the Ring", --

--for the time being, at any rate ! A good scrap !
