Picture.

NOTE FOR MUSIC.:- Keep title music as background over first shot - then after a pause change to Bagpipes, and bring up on last shot.

The lawns of the beautiful 17th-century chateau-like Glamis Castle are a fine setting for the garden-party held in celebration of the Golden Wedding of the -- --Earl and Countess. .... The host and hostess mingle freely with their guests, receiving congratulations on all sides. .... The -- --chief guests are, of course, their daughter, the Duchess of York, with the Duke and little Princess Elizabeth. .... They greet --

--many old friends amongst the fifteen-hundred people present. .... Everyone is delighted -- --to have the little family with them. .... Princess Elizabeth keeps her mother "on the trot" all the time, and even --

--the famous Scottish comedian, Sir Harry Lauder fails to hold her interest for very long. .... Her proudest moment --

--is when she helps to escort her baby sister, Princess Margaret Rose, through the grounds.

Bagpipes band only over last shot.
