TITLE.:- FLYING BULLETS.

Picture.:- Britain's hopes of making the Schneider Trophy our very own, are centred in this small group of Royal Air Force officers.

Squadron Leader Orlebar, the Captain of the team, holds the World's Air Speed record of 357.7. miles an hour !
A fast man !

Flight-Lieutenant Long is another flash of "living lightning" who will give a good account of himself, --

--while Flight-Lieutenant Boothman is a "shooting star" of extreme brilliance.

Flight-Lieutenant Stainforth, another "human bullet", has shot through the air at over 5½ miles an hour, --

--while Lieutenant Brinton is a "dashing" naval officer in more senses than one.

Flight-Lieutenant Snaith is the sixth "ace" in the pack. ...
And six "aces" should cause a sensation !

The wonder-planes that are going to do their best to make our dreams come true, are absolute "poems" in blue and silver....

This one is the Vickers Supermarine Rolls-Royce S.6.
There are all kinds of rumours and --

--speculations as to her speed - but we must be patient.
We'll know all about it after the contest.We very much want

--to keep the Schneider Trophy - but, may the best team win !
