

(3). TITLE.:- GERMANY'S LITTLE WARS.

Picture.:- They simply haven't got the money to spend on wide-spread army manoeuvres this year.

War-like operations are being carried out --

--by individual units, near their respective stations. ... Nevertheless the troops enter into the spirit of the thing, producing some rather striking scenes of military efficiency. .... There's always a thrill in a dash by army-trained horses, at least I -- --think so ! ..... This is the 10th Cavalry "letting off steam" in a wild charge across Silesian country. .... It is the old-style of attack. .... If they did --

--this in modern warfare, machine guns would "wipe them out" as effectively as chalk off a blackboard. .... Anyway, they get plenty of -- --excitement out of it - and, of course, excitement is the "salt of life" to a soldier, whatever his nationality.
