

(4). TITLE:- WALTZING ON THE WATER.

Picture:- Visitors to the famous resort crowd in to see the -- --contest. They are to dance a waltz on rafts floating in the middle of the pool.

They must all be pretty sure of the abilities of their dancing partners - both on -- --the dance floor and in water ! They are taken in boats to the little rafts moored some -- --distance out. Careful, Miss ! That's it ! Can you wonder that excitement runs --

--high amongst the thousands of spectators assembled around the edge of the big swimming pool ?

There's not much room to spare when a couple start waltzing on a tiny "floating button" like this! Anyway, it's not much different in that respect to present day ballrooms !

It looks rather delightful, doesn't it ? Although perhaps it's as well Mrs Grundy isn't anywhere about !
I'm sure the straight-laced old lady would delight in spoiling the rhythm of this waltz. Fortunately they've no time for her--

--in Margate, and unfortunately, I've had the only holiday
I shall get this year !
