

(8), GIFT TO FIGHTING FIFTH.

Picture.:- They are going overseas, so Lord Armstrong's presentation of nine silver bugles, is in the nature of a parting gift. XXXX They have all been donated by well-known people, many of whom have some personal or family association with the famous regiment. XXXX Each bugle is engraved with the -- --name of the donor, and the figure of St. George, the patron saint--

--of the regiment. XXXX This, by the way, is the first battalion.

The second is returning from Shanghai, after eighteen years of overseas service. XXXX The presentation is a pretty compliment --

--to the Fusiliers, who have a fighting record, second to none in the British Army. XXXX They are certainly a smart body of men, --

--who can be relied upon to uphold the traditions of our Empire while they are stationed at Jamaica. The Cookhouse door will surely--

--sound much more attractive, now that "the boys" know it will be "tootled" on real silver bugles. "So long", you fellows, Good Luck !

AND SO, FOR THE PRESENT, WE LEAVE YOU !
